

Duck Cho

Samsung Medical Center, Sungkyunkwan University, Korea

He is currently a director of Laboratory Medicine and Genetics at the Samsung Medical Center, Sungkyunkwan University School of Medicine, Seoul, Korea. He received his Ph.D. in the laboratory medicine (transfusion medicine) from the Chonnam National University in Korea. He is a former Research Associate of the St Jude Children Research Hospital, Memphis, TN, USA from 2007 to 2009 and currently served on the Editor-in-Chief in Korean Journal of Blood Transfusion. His research interests have focused on studies of the Blood Group Genetics (ABO, RhD) and NK cell based immunotherapy for Cancer. More recently he has concentrated on the Ex vivo Expansion of human NK cells for Cancer immunotherapy.